

WAR STATUS FOR ROADS PROPOSED

President Appeals to Congress to Aid Him in Saving the Country from Disaster of Strike of Railroad Employees

President. They have thought it best that they should be forced to yield, if they must yield, not by counsel, but by the suffering of the country."

The President tonight, at 8 o'clock, will go to the capitol again to confer with Speaker Clark, Representative Witchin, floor leader of the House; Representative Mann, Republican leader in the House, and Chairman Adamson of the House interstate commerce committee, and will urge early action on his proposal.

Republicans manifested opposition early today and indicated they would need considerable time for debate. Nevertheless, administration officials feel that the entire program will go through within ten days.

The President's speech to Congress follows:

"Gentlemen of the Congress:
"I have come to you to seek your assistance in dealing with a very grave situation which has arisen out of the demands of the men of the railroads engaged in freight train service that they be granted an eight-hour working day, safeguarded by payment for an hour and a half of service for every hour of work beyond the eight hours.
"The matter has been agitated for more than a year. The public has been made familiar with the demands of the men and the arguments urged in favor of them and even more familiar with the objections of the railroads and their counter demand that certain privileges now enjoyed by their men and certain basis of payment worked out through many years of contest be reconsidered, especially in their relation to the men who work an eight-hour day. The matter came some three weeks ago to a final issue and resulted in a complete deadlock between the parties.

"The means provided by law for the mediation of disputes failed to bring the men and the railroads into agreement for which the law provides were rejected. The representatives of the railway executives proposed that the demands of the men be submitted in their entirety to arbitration, along with the demands of the railroads as to pay and conditions of employment which seemed to them to be either closely associated with the demands or to call for re-consideration on their own merits. The men, however, claimed arbitration especially if any of their established privileges were by that means to be drawn again in question. The law in the matter put no compulsion upon them. The 400,000 men from whom the railroads had voted to strike, if their demands were refused, was the strike was imminent; it has since been set for the fourth of September next. It affects the men who make the freight trains on practically every railway in the country. The first seven services throughout the United States must stand still until their places are filled if, indeed, it should prove possible to fill them all. Cities will be cut off from their food supplies, the whole commerce will stop, and millions of men of every sort and occupation will be thrown out of employment, countless thousands will, in all likelihood, be brought. It may be, to the very point of starvation. A tragic social calamity brought on, to add to the other distresses of the time, because no basis of accommodation or settlement has been found.

A DUTY.
"Just so soon as it becomes evident that mediation under the existing law had failed and that arbitration had been rendered impossible by the attitude of the men, I considered it my duty to confer with the representatives of both the railroads and the men and to offer self offer mediation, not as an arbitrator but merely as spokesman of the nation, in the interest of justice, indeed, and as a friend of both parties, but not as judge, only as the representative of one hundred million of American workers, in whom who would pay the price, the incalculable price, of loss and suffering should these few men insist upon approaching and concluding the matters in controversy before them merely as雇佣的 employees, rather than as patriotic citizens of the United States, looking before and after and accepting the larger responsibility which the public would put upon them.

"It seemed to me, in considering the subject matter of the controversy that the whole spirit of the time and the preponderant evidence of the recent record of experience spoke for the eight-hour day. It was therefore logical to think and experience of recent years in insisting as in the interest of health, efficiency, contentment, and general increase of economic vigor. The presumption of modern experience would, it seemed to me, be in its favor, whether there was arbitration or not, and the debatable points to settle were those with respect to the length of the eight-hour day rather than those which affected its establishment. I therefore proposed that the eight-hour day be adopted by the railway managements and railroads, in their discretion, as a substitute for the existing six-hour basis of pay and service; that I should appoint, with the permission of Congress, a small commission to observe the results of the experiment and to submit the figures of the altered operating costs not only, but also the costs of labor under which the men worked and the operation of their existing agreements with the railroads, in attempting to relate the facts as they found them to Congress at the earliest possible day, but without recommendation; and that, after the facts had been thus disclosed, an adjustment shall in some orderly manner be sought of all the matters now left undecided between the railroad managers and the men.

AGREE WITH DECISIONS.
"These proposals were evidently in line. It is interesting to note, with the position taken by the Senate, that the United States when appealed to to protect certain litigants from the financial losses which they confidently expected if they should submit to the regulation of the charges of their methods of service, did not hesitate to do so. The court has held that it would not undertake to form a judgment upon forecasts, but could base its action only upon actual experience; that it must be supplied with facts, not with calculations and opinions, to have any right to interfere. To undertake to arbitrate the question of the adoption of an eight-hour day in the light of results merely estimated and predicted would be to undertake an enterprise of conjecture. No wise man could undertake it, or, if he did, undertake it, with unfeignedly offered the friendly services of the administration to the railway managers to see to it that justice was done the railroads in the outcome. I feel, however, in assuring them that no obstacle of law would suffice to stand in the way of their increasing their revenues to meet the expenses resulting from the change so far as the development of their business and of their administrative efficiency did not provide a sufficient offset. The public and the representatives of the public, I feel, justified in assuring them, were disposed to nothing but justice in such cases and were willing to serve those who served the public.

BROTHERHOOD ACCEPTED.
"The representatives of the brotherhoods accepted the plan, but the representatives of the railroads declined to accept it. In the face of what I cannot but regard as the practical certainty that they will be ultimately obliged to accept the eight-hour day, and the concerted action of organized labor, backed by the favorable judgment of society, the representatives of the railway management have felt justified in declining a peaceful settlement which would engage all the forces of justice, public and private, on their side, to take care of the event. They feel the hostile influence of shipper, who would be opposed to an increase of freight rates, even if it would never come. The public itself would pay; they apparently feel no confidence that the Interstate Commerce Commission could withstand the objections that would be made. They do not care to rely on the friendly assistance of the Congress or the Senate. They have thought it best that they should be forced to yield, not by counsel, but by the suffering of the country, while my conferences with them were in progress, and when to all outward appearance the negotiations were at a standstill, the representatives of the strike for September 4.

"The railway managers based their decision to reject my counsel in the main to uproot their contention that they must at any cost to themselves or to the country stand firm for the principle of arbitration which the men had rejected. I fear that my counsel upon the hasty proposal that we wait no means of obtaining arbitration. The last efforts of earnest efforts at mediation had failed to influence the men in the least. To stand firm for the principle of arbitration and yet not get arbitration seemed to me well and good, but inaction, inertia, failure, because it involved insuperable difficulties to the country and consequences in some respects worse than those of war and that in the midst of peace. I yield to no man in firm adherence alike of conviction and practice to the principle of arbitration in industry. The railroads, however, have come to a sudden crisis in this particular dispute and the country has been caught unprovided with any practicable means of enforcing that conviction in practice by whose fault it will not happen to me. HOME RULE IN TAXATION IS DEMAND

President Howe of National Tax Association Urges Fight Against Centralization of Power in Modern Government

Chief Executive of Nation in Present Administration Has Assumed Powers Inconsistent With Democracy, He Says

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—Recommendations for broadening the activities of the National Tax Association were made today by the president, Samuel T. Howe, of Kansas, who announced address to members attending the national tax conference here. He suggested educational campaigns to lessen governmental expenditures and to provide for additional "home rule" legislation. He also condemned the Washington administration for its tendency, as he termed it, to centralize authority. In addition, he made a vigorous plea for the enactment of uniform tax laws throughout the country. Howe said:

Heretofore the chief aim of this association and its correlative organization, the national tax conference annually held, has been to promote tax reformation among the states to the end that the burden of raising public revenue should be distributed among the citizens in a manner more relatively equal than could possibly be done under most prevailing revenue systems.

To LIMIT EXPENDITURES.

There seem to be at least two other ends toward which the efforts of the association may well be devoted in order to enhance the public interest.

First.—An organized effort to be vigorously exerted for the purpose of showing the people the great desirability of limiting public expenditures to the needs of government economically administered.

Second.—A dissemination of information necessary to convince the public that every effort should be made to control and direct the tendencies to centralize governmental powers so as to leave the greatest possible opportunity for the exercise of "home rule."

Howe declared that a movement to centralize the exercise of governmental power was akin to centralizing tendencies apparent in industrial and commercial fields. He continued:

PRESIDENT ASSUMES POWER.

Perhaps the most important example of the kind is the large assumption of power by the federal government which has occurred within the past quarter of a century, and is likely to be continued in increasing degree unless a countervailing movement is started.

The political party now in control of the administration alwys' is opposed to centralization until quite recently. Now, however, its position seems to be completely reversed and during the past three years there has been exercised by the executive elected by that party powers that even a Hamilton would not have suggested as suitable to be exercised by the administrators of a constitutional representative government.

Most certainly far-reaching laws have been enacted by Congress for which there was little if any public demand; political expediency seemed to have been the sole influence to their enactment.

It may be said, it is not meant to specially criticize the present federal administration, because during preceding administrations there were plenty of "big stick" precedents.

In emphasizing the need for uniform tax legislation Howe said that under present conditions "there have grown up widely varying fiscal systems and there is so much conflict among them that great hardships to property owners often result from double taxation."

Stanford Graduates Tell of Betrothals

SANTA CLARA, Aug. 29.—Announcement was made today of the engagement of Waldo R. Wealty and Miss Angelica Bromley of San Francisco. Wealty and his bride-to-be are both graduates of Stanford, being a 1913 man while Mrs. Bromley was a member of the 1914 class. Wealty is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wealty of this city and holds an important position in San Francisco. Miss Bromley is a San Franciscan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bromley. Wealty graduated from Stanford in the department of chemistry and is at present connected with a large San Francisco house in the capacity of chemist.

Weave Paper Cotton; Has Cloth Side Out

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 29.—A new German textile in which paper is spun with about 20 per cent of cotton is being exhibited here.

Unspun cotton in the form of down is glued to one side of endless rolls of paper and the paper is then shorn into narrow bands, which are spun with the cotton side outwards.

Danish experts were shown paper underclothing, jerseys, sheets, bandages and horse blankets, but the cost of production of the article is stated to be too high to allow of its competing with cotton or woolen cloth under normal conditions.

Chicago Shoppers Don't Recognize Taft

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Former President William H. Taft, here to attend the convention of the American Bar Association, which opens Wednesday, told reporters today that Chicago convinced him he was out of politics.

"I walked four blocks through the downtown streets and made some purchases in a store without any one apparently recognizing me," the former President said.

El Centro Federal Land Office Finished

EL CENTRO, Aug. 29.—Preparations were completed today for the opening of the new federal land office here September 1. Twenty mail sacks of records from the Los Angeles government office are being prepared for filing here, by an extra force working night and day.

EXPOSITION BEAUTIES SHOWN DANCING ACTS ARE FEATURES

ALOHA TWINS, who are creating sensation in Review of Exposition at Macdonough Theater this week.

Night at World's Fair Dazzles With Scenic Wonders

Sid Grauman's "A Night" at the S. F. World's Fair and Twenty Minutes at Coffee Dan's, is a daring attempt to duplicate the beauties and grandeur of the Exposition. The scenes one after the other are the work of a master genius and the electrical effects are of a quality usually heralded by ambitious press agents but not to be found except in rare cases.

Scott Butterworth as "The Soiuse" depicts the role of an inebriate and his demonation carried out through the entire performance will not be forgotten in many a day. Of the specialty interpolations the California Poppies, with their original Egyptian interpretation, have an added touch. The twins in their Hawaiian dances and the dancing Tyrrels receive encores. The "Twenty Minutes at Coffee Dan's" section of the production really consumes over forty minutes of time, is an amusing and original presentation.

THE BLUEBIRD BUREAU Department of Good Fellows

We have a young boy on our list who is open for adoption. George is now 13 years old and is a bright, cheerful little fellow. The lad has been in an orphanage for over two years but the time has come when he must leave though it is no fault of his, as he never causes any one any trouble. He hasn't a living relative or anyone who would care for him.

Acknowledgment is hereby made of a donation of two greenbacks received from Mrs. G.

Yesterday we received the following letter with 25 cents enclosed:

"Oakland, Cal., Aug. 27, 1916.
Dear Mr. 'Blue Bird': It's really too bad in this great, grand, prosperous country of ours, poverty and want is allowed to exist, when so many thousands of dollars have been given to foreign countries and our own humble people at home begging for the necessities of life and poor little "Blue Bird" left without a feather to fly with!

"Poverty is no crime. I'm going to make a suggestion, short and to the point: How many 'Good Fellows' will pledge ten cents a week out of their pocket money for one year to be given to the Blue Bird and used as he thinks best for the alleviation of those in sickness and distress?

We can drop our dimes in envelopes and send them in once a month. Ten cents a week isn't much for the majority of every family in this beautiful city, is it? How much good Blue Bird could accomplish if only two hundred Good Fellows would contribute.

(Signed) "E. B. W."

A very good friend of ours and a man whose business it is to know such cases as this wrote as follows:

"Dear 'Blue Bird': Could you assist in rehabilitating a family by finding work for the father in his trade? Briefly, the facts are these:

"A widow man with his wife and small children dependent on him, is a shoe-maker and is unable to find steady work.

"He is said to be a good mechanic.

"His wife is forced to work and the children are neglected, as well as suffering from insufficient clothing and food.

"If the man could have steady work it would be possible to do a great deal to ward remedying the other unfortunate had conditions in the home.

"Will you do what you can in the matter?

"Thanking you for your good efforts, I remain yours very truly."

Yours very truly,

Well, Donald is still with us. We are in hopes that most any minute some one will call in and say they want a good boy for a farm hand and Don will be the one they will probably ask for. It won't be long until we will find the right place for him and he surely will make good if given a chance.

SANTA ROSA IS NATIVE'S MECCA

Local Committees at Work on Plans for September 9 Program.

The joint ninth of September committee, composed of delegates from the seventeen parlors of Native Sons of the Golden West situated in Alameda county have completed arrangements for the annual celebration of the Order of Native Sons to be held at Santa Rosa on the 8th, 9th and 10th of September. Two thousand reservations have been made and it will be necessary for three special trains to transport all of those deacons of attending from this side of the bay.

The Native Daughters have reported that the various branches of that order were anticipating a large representation to participate in the parade at Santa Rosa.

The committee of arrangements at Santa Rosa is taking extra efforts to make the celebration a success and is working on a program which when finally completed will be replete with many surprises.

The tentative program:

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 8.

8 to 10 p. m.—Band concert and arrival of trains with the various parlors and grand illuminated parade to various headquarters. All kinds of amusements and safety will take place upon the streets until midnight.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 9.

Reception of visitors at the various trains that will arrive from all points up to 11:30 a. m.

11:30 a. m.—Great parade, in which twenty-five parlors, consisting of both Native Sons and Native Daughters, will participate, and accompanied by fifteen bands and twenty drum-corps.

1:00 p. m.—Literary exercises in front of the Court House by the grand officers of the Sons.

2:00 p. m.—Band concert in front of Court House, also opening of receptions and dancing at the various parlor headquarters throughout the city, to which all visitors are invited. Dancing will continue at all headquarters until midnight.

5:00 p. m.—Grand massed band concert in front of Court House, in which all the bands in the city will participate, numbering more than 300 musicians.

8:00 p. m.—Band concert in front of the Court House.

9:00 p. m.—Grand display of fireworks with appropriate allegorical set pieces, showing different phases of California history.

9:45 p. m.—Beginning of great street carnival of fun, closing with grand confetti battle and serpentine whirl. Dancing on the street and at the various headquarters.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 10.

2:00 p. m.—Sacred band concert.

3:30 p. m.—Auto race and hose contest between the fire department.

2:00 to 5:00 p. m.—Reception and open house at all the parlor headquarters.

ACTOR PASSES AWAY.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 29.—Samuel Merton Griffith, a character actor widely known on the Pacific coast, died here after a lingering illness. He was 49 years old.

Services Are Held for Mrs. John Isaacs

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the late Mrs. Emily L. Isaacs, wife of John D. Isaacs, consulting engineer of the Southern Pacific. Mrs. Isaacs died August 23 while enroute to the city from the East. Both ceremony and interment were private, with only the members of the immediate family in attendance.

She is survived by the widower, John D. Isaacs, five children, Lillian, John D. Jr., Henry M., Frank B., James Isaacs, and one sister, Grace V. Collins. Although she had lived for the last few years in New York with her husband and family, Mrs. Isaacs was well known in the bay region, where she resided for many years. She was a native of Baltimore, Maryland.

Bodyguard of Jeff Davis Dies in South

GULFPORT, Miss., Aug. 29.—Ben Williams, once bodyguard for Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy, and who was President Wilson's caddy when he played golf at the country club here two years ago, died here today.

The negro was well known over the country because of his history, thousands of postcards bearing his picture being sold.

MRS. LOKER DIES.

Heart failure is believed to have caused the death of Mrs. Minnie Loker, 71 years old, who was found dead in her bed at the family home, 811 Peralta street. She was an early resident of Oakland, having resided for years in the eastern portion of the city. She was found by her son, John F. Loker, an employee of the Southern Pacific Company. Funeral services have not yet been arranged.

STENOGRAPHER BRIDE OF OIL MAGNATE.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29.—Lyman Stewart, multimillionaire oil producer, and Miss Ruth Howell, for more than ten years his private secretary, were married Saturday afternoon in Ventura. They are now at the Arlington Hotel, Santa Barbara, and are planning to go honeymooning by automobile through Southern California before returning to Los Angeles.

In the records of the marriage bureau at Ventura Stewart's age stands at 76 and the bride's at 31.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alice G. Caukin, 52, of San Francisco. The family came to Los Angeles from Tennessee about twelve years ago and shortly afterward the young woman who is now the bride of the millionaire oil man entered the employ of the Union Oil Company. For the past ten years, up to a few weeks ago, she had served as private secretary to Mr. Stewart.

WOMAN RECEIVER BRAVES BANDITS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Grace B. Caukin, receiver of public moneys at the Bank of America, braved the fear of robbers, bandits or hold-up men.

Yesterday she left for Willits to receive the proceeds for the Round Valley government land auction sale, armed only with ten large canvas bags to put the money in.

Senator Sanford, register of lands, offered his automobile to Mrs. Caukin, but she refused.

Nearly 50,000 acres of undisposed of lands are to be sold at Willits tomorrow.

The lands are in Mendocino and Trinity counties in the San Francisco and Eureka land districts.

In all there is a total of 44,106.73 acres to be sold. They have been appraised at $56,230.79, and are not to be sold for less than their appraised value.

Purchasers will pay one-third down, at least one-third, the remainder being payable in two annual installments, with interest at 5 per cent annually on the deferred payments.

WHEELS OF JUSTICE TOO SLOW FOR HER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Believing she could speed up the wheels of justice a bit by her presence in a suit in which she is peculiarly interested, Eleanor B. German of Los Angeles arrived yesterday and made her way to the office of the clerk of the United States District Court. Miss German is a survivor of the wreck of the steamship Santa Rosa off the south coast, July 7, 1911.

With other claimants for damages, Mrs. German began suit against the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, owners of the Santa Rosa. In June, 1915, hearings were held in Federal Judge Doolin's court, the latter part of last year. Since then Judge Doolin has been waiting for briefs from the lawyers on the two sides.

OLDEST WOMAN OF WEST IS BURNED.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Isabella Ramos, the oldest woman in Santa Clara county and the oldest in the West, so far as can be learned, was buried in the Potter's field at the County Hospital here.

Friends of the woman at Almaden had made the arrangements with hospital authorities that they would care for her with a fund they intended to raise for that purpose, but yesterday they informed the officials that they had been unable to raise any money and had found necessary to bury her in Potter's field.

There were no mourners present, no funeral services, and the only persons in attendance were the hospital employees who helped to move the casket, and the grave diggers at the Potter's field.

At the service at St. Martin's church, Sunday night, Father McElroy said a mass for the repose of the soul of the dead woman. She was born in 1850 in Mexico City, papers in her possession showed.

BRIDE IS CLAIMED BY JOHN ASTOR.

LONDON, Aug. 29.—Captain John Astor of the First Life Guards, has married Lady Charles Mercer Nairne at Christ Church.

Captain Astor is the youngest son of Baron William Waldorf Astor, formerly of New York. The bride is the widow of Lord Nairne, second son of the Marquis of Londesborough, who fell fighting in the war in France. She is a daughter of the late Lord Minto, former Viceroy of India, and is 27 years old.

Shirt Waist Dance by Edonai Club

Members of the Edonai Club will be hostesses at a shirtwaist dance to be held in St. Mary's Hall, Seventh and Grove street, tomorrow evening.

The committee of arrangements includes: Miss Pearl Courtney, chairman; Josie Clark, Eleanor O'Connell, Lorale Flynn, Beatrice Flascher, Regine Monzo, Marion Rhys, Gladys Diehl, Frances Kennedy, Stella Besenthal, Arthur Clark, Helen Pleite, Arlette Welsh, Lorale Kelly, Juanita Barron and Antonietta Besenthal.

Grape-Nuts food stands pre-eminent as a builder of this kind of energy. It is made of the entire nutriment of whole wheat and barley, two of the richest sources of food strength.

Grape-Nuts also includes the vital mineral elements of the grain, so much emphasized in these days of investigation of real food values.

Crisp, ready to eat, easy to digest, wonderfully nourishing and delicious.

NEEDN'T FEAR LIFTING LID --PETERSEN

But Chief Neglects to Explain Source of Added Revenue Promised by Commissioner at Meeting of City Council

Mayor Davis Announces He Feels Assured People Will Back His Proposal That Police Be Put in His Department

"Mayer Davis need not be perturbed as to whether or not Oakland is to be a 'wide-open' town in order that the city's revenues may be increased. Under no circumstances can the city be opened up on the 'lid,' removed, while the chief of police?"

This is what Walter J. Petersen, acting chief of police, had to say today in answer to the announcement yesterday of Mayor John L. Davis that he will seek to initiate a charter amendment election, placing the police force in his department rather than in that of Commissioner F. F. Jackson of the department of public health and safety. The mayor explained that he desired charge of the police department that the force might not be used illegally in the collection of revenues for the city.

"Well, if the city is not to be 'opened up,'" Petersen was asked, "where is this added money to be secured, that the city may not have a big deficit at the end of this fiscal year?"

REVENUE WAS HIGHER.

"Don't ask me," Petersen answered. "Ask Commissioner Anderson. He told the council yesterday that the money would be procured. As to Anderson's statement that the revenue of the police courts could be much larger, I may say that I have seen it double the amount it has been during the time I was out of the office of chief of police."

"Was the operation of Chinese lotteries not permitted at that time, however?" the question was asked.

"Yes, that is true," Petersen replied.

"Well," was the query, "will the same conditions prevail in the immediate future?"

"They will not," was the reply. "This city is not to be 'opened up' in any form or manner. I don't care what any one else may say about it. I am in charge of the police department now so far as the office of chief of police will pass it on, and will see to it that all the laws are enforced at all times and under all conditions."

TO DEMAND INITIATIVE.

The mayor has asked attorneys to give him an opinion as to the procedure to be taken in getting his proposed charter amendment on the ballot, that the people of the city may go to the polls and express an opinion on his plan. He will ask the council to place the amendment on the ballot, but expects that Commissioners Jackson, Anderson and Bacus will vote against the proposal. He will then invoke the initiative.

"Section 87 of the charter is wrong," he says. "It places the police department under the charge of the commissioner of public health and safety. It should logically be under the mayor. That is matter of law, a matter of common sense. As chief executive of the city, if certain situations arise, I should have the power to direct the actions of the police force. I think the people of the city will agree with me in this matter, also."

Fair Weather Is Promised Coast

SAN FRANCISCO. Aug. 29.—The unsettled weather conditions that caused rain along the Pacific and yesterday's thunder and lightning have passed off and fair conditions prevail generally. The clouds and for which overshadowed the bay cities this morning are the result of purely local conditions and the interior is bathed in sunshine. The forecast is for fair weather, and rain during the past 24 hours was confined to the mountains, with a sprinkle at Fresno.

Philippine Epidemic of Cholera Is Denied

MANILA, Aug. 29.—The health director denies the report that an epidemic of cholera is prevalent in the Philippines.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Will C. Wood, state commissioner of secondary education, and former Alameda superintendent of schools, arrived at the Hotel (Oakland) this morning from Sacramento. He will spend several days in the bay region conferring with school heads.

John D. Isaacs, one of the best known railroad men in the United States and builder of many of the important branches of transportation, arrived at the Hotel Oakland with his children, H. M. Isaacs, Miss Lillian Isaacs and Mr. and Mrs. William Allen of Los Angeles, and wife and Ruth Allen, their children, arrived today by automobile from the north. They are making a tour of the state.

Dr. Charles H. Nixon of Grass Valley is a guest at the St. Mark. He plans a stay of several days in the bay region.

Arthur K. Ingalls of San Diego is a business visitor in Oakland, being registered at the Tourist.

COL. COLLIER'S BRIDE DIES FORMER OAKLAND BELLE

MRS. D. C. COLLIER (Ruth Everson), who died at the Wakefield Sanitarium after a brief illness.

Death Ends Career of Young Woman After Short Illness

Mrs. Ruth Everson Collier, bride of Colonel David Charles Collier, former president of the Panama-California Exposition at San Diego, died last evening after an illness of several days in the Wakefield sanitarium in San Francisco. Her death, which was unexpected, has thrown a pall of sadness over local society, for Mrs. Collier was one of the most attractive and popular members of the younger set.

Mrs. Collier was married November 14, 1915, at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Augusta Everson, 424 Oakland avenue, with a simple home ceremony performed by Rev. A. H. Needham. The honeymoon was spent at San Diego and in New York and Washington. Colonel Collier, who is the owner of extensive Mexican land and railroad interests, built a handsome mansion in San Diego, where they planned to make their permanent home.

Mrs. Collier was a native of California, having been born in Oakland twenty-seven years ago. Her father, the late Mark Everson, was a pioneer of Alameda county. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Everson residence, 424 Oakland avenue.

COUNCIL MEETING.

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Owing to the election the scheduled meeting of the city council today was postponed until tomorrow, when it is expected the fixing of the tax rate for the year will be the chief business. Some consideration may be given to the draft of charter amendments to be voted on next November on which Dr. Mark Green, assistant to the city attorney, is at work.

The setting of a retirement-for-service age for city officials is a moot question to be decided.

Fund for Soldiers' Families at Ebb Civic Body Confronted With Grave Problem

With the funds for relieving distress among dependent families of national guardmen now at the border running low, the Chamber of Commerce Military Committee is facing a serious situation. A special meeting of the committee has been called for tomorrow when plans for raising money will be discussed.

With heavier demands than ever for aid to the wives and families of the soldiers, the committee has hardly enough money to relieve the financial need for the next week. So serious is the situation becoming that the committee must at once make a special effort to gain better support from the public. There are many cases of actual distress that are urgent, and must be relieved at once, the committee members state.

Plans for aiding the National Guard recruiting station recently established here to bring the Oakland rolls up to standard with physically fit men who have no families dependent on them are also to be discussed by the committee at tomorrow's meeting.

DE WOLFE ADMITS CRIMINAL RECORD

Reno Police Take Suspect Who Tells of Murder in State of Arizona.

A. J. Dewolfe, who also is known under several alias names, arrested at Reno, Nev., on suspicion, with checks aggregating $3250 drawn on an Oakland bank, has been identified, according to the Reno police, as the man wanted at Las Cruces, N. M., for the murder of Sheriff Dwight E. Stevens of Luna county, N. M., on February 40. Identification was established by means of descriptions and pictures in possession of Chief J. D. Hillman of Reno.

Dewolfe and two other prisoners broke jail at Deming and were pursued by the sheriff and posse. They opened fire on the posse killing the sheriff. One of the fugitives, Henry Starr, is wanted in Oklahoma for bank robbery.

Dewolfe, confronted with the evidence, is said to have confessed. He also said he was a swindled convert from San Quentin, Calif., and a fugitive from Flagstaff, Ariz., for embezzlement. The New Mexican authorities were notified.

Dewolfe was about to leave for Salt Lake when caught. Clew to his identity was furnished by signature to a check attached to the description of the fugitive, which was identical with those on checks in Dewolfe's possession.

New Vice Picture at Broadway Authentic

"The Little Girl Next Door," the picture based on the crusade of the Illinois vice commission now playing the Broadway theater and which will be the special attraction for the week, has passed to be one of the biggest drawards that ever played this house, as the people have stood in line from the middle of the day until late at night trying to get seats.

The fact of the picture being based on the report of the Chicago vice commission assures one of the fact that the picture is the authentic sworn statement of women who actually lived the life.

The conditions that are shown in the pictures were discovered in Chicago by the Senate Commission which the Lieutenant Governor headed, and it is the first time that a state commission's report has been transmitted to the public through the medium of the movie.

Along with the white slave incidents of course, go thrilling scenes of the underworld, and it is plain to see that the producing director worked with a free hand and handled the whole picture with absolute frankness.

Temple Sinai Cantor Before B'nai B'rith

MAY BUILD WAR SHIPS IN ALAMEDA

President of Union Iron Works Declares Contracts for Two Are in Sight.

If the Union Iron Works is the successful bidder for the construction of two battleships and a number of cruisers which have been authorized by Congress, the war vessels will be built at the Alameda plant of the company, according to John A. McGregor, president of the ship-building concern, who has just returned from the east. This will mean the immediate enlargement of the plant on the land to be leased from the city of Alameda by the authority of the recent election. McGregor said today:

Personally, I am very anxious that we should build a battleship. Such a contract let here would be good for the community. I believe in the preparedness movement, and while the Union Iron Works from a financial standpoint, would not profit by a contract of that kind, there is something that counts more than the mere making of money.

We are handicapped on the Pacific Coast in the freight rates on steel under ordinary conditions. For example, if the dead weight of the construction material on a battleship is 30,000 tons, that means a difference of at least $150,000 that we have to pay above eastern competitors.

My principal reason for going east was to attend the meeting of the suspension committee of the Interstate Commerce Commission. A raise in freight rates has been ordered. If it goes into effect, even temporarily, during the war, it would mean that the Union Iron Works would have to pay $600,000 more for material that it figured on when signing contracts for vessels already begun.

While I was on the eastern seaboard arrangements were made for the sale of two freighters now under construction on speculation. They are going to a Norwegian firm for $1,600,000 each. Six more are under construction—two tankers and four freighters."

McGregor declared that the transbay bridge between Oakland and San Francisco would be a good thing. The various engineering problems involved, he said, can be worked out satisfactorily so that the structure will not be a hindrance to navigation.

Underground Cable to Carry Many Wires

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 29.—Telephone wires now overhead in the business section of this city along East Fourteenth street from San Leandro bridge to Maude street will be replaced in underground conduits within a period of three years, according to an agreement come to between the Town Board and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. The company desired that the wire limit for telephone lines be increased from 12 to 16 pairs, as the wires now in use are too close together. The telephone poles are fixed at that period. A compromise was reached and the limit placed at three years. At the end of that time should the telephone company show sufficient cause, the wire limit will be increased.

The band has accepted an invitation to give concerts at an Alameda county children's day celebration at an Alameda beach Saturday.

Early Alameda County Resident Succumbs

ELMHURST, Aug. 29.—Mrs. Margaret Taaffe, one of the oldest residents in this community, died at her home 2429 S. 50th St. of age and was buried in New Ross, Ireland. Mrs. Taaffe went to British Columbia from Ireland 25 years ago and came to Elmhurst with her son, C. Landis Taaffe, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Taaffe, 16 months ago. Mrs. Taaffe was active in church work and was a member of St. Louis Bertrand's Catholic church. Surviving her are two sons, John Taaffe and Carl, and a brother, Martin Taaffe of Seattle, senior officer of the Alaska-Pacific Navigation company.

The funeral will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Requiem mass will be offered at St. Louis Bertrand's church. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery will be private.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY.

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 29.—Friends from Berkeley, Alameda and this city celebrated the 10th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Shuhaw at a party at their home on Joaquin avenue last evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. Landis Taaffe, Mrs. and Mr. W. B. Phelan, Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Weaver and Mrs. A. B. Carv. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mills, Mrs. Lucy L. PLEA OF CONSULAR OFFICER HALTS LAW

German Attache Waits for Legal Talent to Determine Status in U. S.

HAYWARD, Aug. 29.—Pending an investigation by the district attorney's office into the contention of Baron von Schack, German vice-consul at San Francisco, that consular officials are immune to punishment for speeding, hearing in the case against Dr. C. L. Dulberg, a German consul attache, has been postponed until September 18.

Dr. Dulberg appeared before Justice of the Peace Charles Prowse at the speeder's court yesterday to answer to a charge of exceeding the speed laws. He reiterated the claim of Baron von Schack that consular officials are immune from punishment for speeding.

Deputy District Attorney Manley J. Clark, who is prosecuting speeders, asked that the hearing of the case against Dr. Dulberg be postponed until September 18 so that the district attorney's office could have time to get the German consul off the hook.

Judge Prowse contends that all foreigners in this country, no matter what position they hold, are as liable to punishment for speeding or any other crime as citizens of the United States.

Pave Way for Street Work in San Leandro

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 29.—Two important ordinances affecting repairs on streets and property were passed by the town board at a meeting last night. Public corporations, according to one ordinance, are required to put up a deposit of $500 and to secure permission from the street superintendents before digging up sidewalks or driveways.

A second ordinance, introduced by Trustee C. Q. Rideout at a previous meeting and finally passed last night, requires corporations supplying water to this city to repair leaks in water pipes within twenty-four hours after notification.

Marshall Joseph Peralta and Fire Chief Bud Eber were instructed to investigate whether a fireproof wall is to be constructed in the Herscher building, now undergoing alteration, on that side facing property owned by Trustee Rideout. A request was made by Rideout last night that the board insure that a fireproof wall is constructed according to law.

School to Entertain With Comedy Movies

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 29.—Educational and comedy pictures will be shown at the school auditorium under the auspices of the University Extension Department Thursday evening. The films to be thrown on the screen are "The Yellowstone National Park," "The Making of a Millionaire," "Driving Wild Nerves," "How Text-books Are Made," and "Buster Brown Gets the Worst of It." The school band will play during the entertainment, which starts at 7:45 o'clock and to which the public is invited.

The band has accepted an invitation to give concerts at an Alameda county children's day celebration at an Alameda beach Saturday.

Allen Funeral Is Held in Hayward

HAYWARD, Aug. 29.—The funeral took place today of Frederick F. Allen, former town trustee and a resident here for 34 years, who died Sunday. Services were held in the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. C. B. Rogers officiating. In the presence of many friends of Allen, including members of Cypress Camp, Woodmen of the World, of which he was a prominent member. The cortège went to Oakland where the remains were cremated.

Student-Pastor to Tell of Islands

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 29.—A stereopticon lecture on the Philippines will be given by Rev. Lewis B. Billings, student pastor at the University of California, at the Presbyterian church tomorrow evening. The pictures to be shown were taken by a photographer who accompanied Rev. Billings on tours through the Philippines and soon will be hung in the church parlors following the lecture. The evening's entertainment will be under the auspices of the Missionary Society.

THE NEW BELLIGERENT.

The entry of Rumania into the war on the side of the entente allies was delayed longer than appeared possible at the outbreak of hostilities two years ago. From the very first her proximity to belligerent Austria-Hungary, Russia and Serbia made the indefinite maintenance of neutrality almost impossible. Bulgaria's alliance with the Teutonic powers last October doubtless caused Rumania to adhere longer to her policy of watchful waiting than would have been the case otherwise. With a strong Bulgarian army on Rumania's southern boundaries, ready to attempt to exact revenge for her action in the last Balkan war and to recover the triangle of territory on the Black Seas which she then seized, it was unwise earlier to engage Austria at arm. The present is more favorable because of the new invasion of Bukowina by the Russian army under General Brusiloff.

Whether the contribution of Rumanian's armed forces to the general slaughter will have a determining influence on the final outcome of the war must remain to be seen. Certainly the Central Powers are prepared for any blow Rumania may attempt to strike. A successful invasion of western Rumania by Austrian and Bulgarian forces would widen the road to Constantinople and open the Danube to free use by the Central Powers. On the other hand, Rumania's alliance with Russia ought greatly to aid the campaign against Austria-Hungary by forcing General Von Bothmer to guard his right flank or withdraw.

Aside from its bearing on the strictly military situation, Rumania's action puts another small group of people in the balance of the crushing struggle between great world powers. It is hardly probable that the Rumanians can escape the war without serious and vital loss to their national integrity and social and economic interests.

It is fairly correct to say that Rumania's declaration of war is the result of propaganda. A powerful clique of statesmen and former statesmen have openly and sedulously advocated alliance with the Allies for two years. The principal leaders of this war party are ex-War Minister Filipescu and ex-Minister of Interior Take Jonescu. The latter especially has been a prolific writer and his "war" pamphlets have been widely circulated by the dozens of Rumanian national clubs in this country. The academicians and "student party" were in the main against neutrality and have done much to aid in creating sentiment favorable to the Allies.

Rumanians deeply mistrust Russia for her failure to show appreciation of the assistance given in the Russo-Turkish war. But they cordially hate Austria, which they accuse of consistent treachery since the sixteenth century, when the famous Rumanian ruler, Michael the Brave, who for the first time united the whole of old Dacia, was assassinated in his tent by an Austrian. The people also have not been permitted to forget that in 1775 Austria tore away the Bukowina, the original home of the Moldavian princes, and annexed it to her own empire. Austria also plotted for the division of the Danubian principalities. The greatest crime of all, in the eyes of Rumanians, is that following the Hungarian revolution of 1849-50. The Rumanians of Transylvania were promised their freedom and fought Austria's battles for her. When Hungary was granted a constitution and given a voice in the government of the empire, the Rumanians of Transylvania, instead of being given their autonomy, were "turned over as a prey to the Magyars."

The revival of these sentiments of hatred have had much to do toward giving the Russian and English diplomats a victory. Under the reign of the late King Charles, who was a friend of the first Hohenzollern William and of the Iron Chancellor, the fomenters of war were kept under control, but upon his death the war party openly denounced Germany as well as Austria. Against a campaign of opposition supported at heart by the Rumanian people because of their hatred of Austria, German diplomacy could not prevail.

ITALY'S RELATED DECLARATION.

Italy's formal declaration of hostilities against Germany is of new importance largely because it means the abrogation of certain agreements entered into between the two governments for the mutual protection of their respective trade and commercial interests. Italy declared war on Russia May 23, 1915, and a similar action against Germany was looked for immediately.

The embassy of Prince von Buelow at Rome, however, was successful in preserving a sort of benevolent hostility, an extraordinary situation in the present war. An agreement was made providing that, while German citizens in Italy were obliged to leave the country or be interned, the vast banking and commercial establishments would be given a measure of special protection that could not have been expected to exist under a formal state of war. These pacts doubtless will now be abrogated.

This arrangement was one of the mysteries of the war. It probably would have endured had not Germany felt obliged to send German soldiers to help Austria in the defense of Trieste and Italy had not sent a force to join in the campaign against German, Bulgarian and Turkish forces in Macedonia and Serbia.

The acts of both Rumania and Italy, taken simultaneously mean an extension of the lines of attacks against the Central Powers. It would seem to forecast a determined attempt to cut communications with Turkey and close the route from Germany to Mesopotamia and Egypt, the plans of the disastrous Gallipoli campaign to force the Dardanelles.

THE TAX RATE.

Oakland citizens will pay taxes for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1917, on the basis of $1.89 on the $100 of property valuation. If the public funds are disbursed with the sole object and in such a manner as to give the highest measure of efficient public service for the money, the rate is none too high. A higher rate, if it brought additional public benefit, might be justified.

There are some improvements the city urgently needs which are not provided for in the new budget.

It is cause for general congratulation that in making up and adopting the budget the city council gave recognition to the proffered advice of the Chamber of Commerce in regard to certain items of increases. These included the appropriation to enable the park board to renew the option on the Sather and Trestle Glen properties. The TRIBUNE has frequently urged the acquirement of these tracts for park purposes, believing that the rapid growth of Oakland will shortly convince every citizen of the desirability of acquiring this property before a further increase in land values ensues. Improvement of the streets should not be abandoned for any reason until they are all in first-class condition, and the allowances for motorization of the fire department and for continued development of harbor facilities, also recommended by the Chamber of Commerce, were wisely adopted.

Oakland's tax rate compares very favorably indeed with that of other cities on the Pacific Coast. It is forty-nine cents lower than the San Francisco rate and lower also than many other cities, larger and smaller than Oakland. And at the same time Oakland offers more attractions for new home-seekers and new business than most other cities of the West.

Dr. Cook of North Pole fame is "doing" the Chautauqua circuit through the middle west and in Missouri the other day, when the temperature was 108, he discussed with a reporter of a Kansas City paper his alleged plans for another attempt to reach that uncertain locality. He said he was going to organize an aeroplane expedition. He will take eight biplanes up to within 800 miles of the pole and then start the flock toward the pole, dropping one at every hundred miles. He told the people of Missouri that he would make the trip during the Arctic summer, when it is not as uncomfortable in the far north as some imagine. Some satisfaction is likely to come out of the 10-cent loaf discussion. A good many think that the proposed doubling of the price is not warranted by the increased price of flour, and that the increased price of flour, in turn, has not been shown to be a legitimate commercial advance.

Dr. Liebnecht, the German Socialist leader who disapproved of the war and was sentenced to thirty months' imprisonment for treason, has now been sentenced to four years additional for appealing his case. We are inclined to wonder how McDevitt would fare over there.

The editor of the Gustine Standard is thankful he is not as others are: "Gosh! but we'd hate to have a disposition like the Los Banos Enterprise man. He flies off the handle and sputters a mad and utterly frazzled himself if anybody says a word. We don't want your old road, we just wanted to see you sputter. Gustine will do all that she knows how to carry the bonds."

This predicament about a campaign fund is related by the Redding Searchlight: "Inner circles of the Democratic party in Shasta county are stirred by the actions of T. D. Goodman, treasurer of the county central committee. There is $1.25 in the treasury. The coin is considered to be in safe hands, but the treasurer is no longer a member of the party, according to J. N. Logan, party wheel horse and president of the Grindstone club. Goodman has registered as a Republican this year."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Ed Hendricks came up from Cloverdale Sunday to enjoy his annual deer hunt in the hills of Lake county. He returned to Cloverdale Tuesday noon, after killing two forked horn bucks. He says he got his deer too quick and has no excuse to stay away from his growing business any longer.—Lake County Bee.

And still the wonder is why it is necessary for the governor to insist upon the Republican nomination for United States Senator, since he prepared the obituary for that party two years ago, and in addition is registered with another party, whose nomination he will receive without opposition.—Riverside Enterprise.

Furthermore, the arrangement rendered the more difficult the strict and uniform enforcement of the Chinese exclusion act and also contributed materially to the number of Orientals smuggled into the United States from the neighboring Dominion.

The issuance of the department's order marks the successful culmination of a spirited campaign by this city. The new arrangement increases the importance of the Seattle station, which will become the principal entry port for all aliens seeking to enter this country through Puget Sound. Moreover, the entire Pacific Coast will be gratified by a change which promises to materially reduce the number of Chinese fraudulently entering the republic in defiance of the exclusion act.

The purchase of 640 acres of beet land near Hamilton by an Oklahoma man is a hopeful indication of sugar factory revival.—Chicago Enterprise.

But perhaps it is well worth while to point out where the trouble does really lie in this question of undue detention of immigrants for weeks and months and even a year as has happened.

I venture to say that it is generally to be traced to the utter incompetence of some of the immigration officers who have entered the immigration service largely on the strength of political influence and favoritism of one form or other, rather than on the merits of their own genuine efficiency and ability. In short, if one were to take a census of the officers over the island today one would feel staggered and astounded to discover the score of men who have been appointed in the first place without proper qualification for their positions. The consequence is, of course, that of these incompetent, half-educated, and untrained men are given the responsible positions to formulate systems, to discharge important duties, to review and render decision on cases that in the light of fairness and justice will require no little amount of sagacity, sound, practical wisdom and unerring mindlessness. Then, too, these immigration cases will often need men who can discriminate the essentials from the non-essentials and be willing to give the applicant the benefit of the doubt, if the least doubt there be. But not so with some of the immigration officers, it seems, who would and will time and again stoically over a trivial point that not infrequently they overlook some of the more pertinent ones in a case. The result is that much time is consumed and wasted in clearing up just these points by the reviewing officers and the applicants' attorneys themselves.

We imagine you can readily convince yourselves of this fact by looking over some of the cases, if possible, filed in the record room over on the "island." It is no exaggeration to say that they are veritable classics of prolixity, absurdity and illogicality. We well remember that at one time a circular letter was actually issued at the immigration station urging the officers to get at the salient points of the cases and avoid all prolixity of words in the questions put to the applicants and in the reports pertaining to cases already heard and disposed of. Nor is this all. A greater evil is to be found in the fact that cases are frequently reviewed by officers promoted from the positions of filing clerks who have not the merest fraction of legal experience, when as a matter of fact they ought to be handled by experienced lawyers with an understanding of things Chinese.

* * *

Such, in brief, is one of the causes of delay of justice at Angel Island from time immemorial, and if any one race suffers more bullying and humbug as well as wholesale abuse under those who presume to interpret and enforce the exclusion law it is the Chinese.

* * *

Yet, perhaps, this is not as immediately significant a question at issue to us as to make the Department of Labor realize the imperative necessity of ameliorating the personnel and system in the immigration station at Angel Island and making them nearly irreproachable and consistent as those of the consul and diplomatic services.

ANOTHER BLACK LIST

DEMAND FOR REFORM AT ANGEL ISLAND IMMIGRATION STATION

By J. D. BUSH.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Please have made for fair treatment of Chinese immigrants at Angel Island and against the injustice of delay in dealing with them, but without objection to the policy of California to enforce a stringent immigration law to prevent the orientalization of its territory.

After all what is the end and aim of law but to expedite justice? And any retardation thereof is defeating the greatest end of civil and enlightened society. As in the words of Landor "Delay of Justice is Injustice."

But perhaps it is well worth while to point out where the trouble does really lie in this question of undue detention of immigrants for weeks and months and even a year as has happened.

THE MEXICAN BOND ISSUE

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Since the Wilson administration of talk and taxation the country has had a succession of treasury deficits and extravagant appropriations, with Congress spending money like a drunken sailor, and hunting for new objects of taxation to

MRS. LOUIS TITUS, after two years of absence is a house guest during these weeks of her mother, Mrs. Thomas H. Rooney, in Claremont. One of the very popular young matrons of Crocker Highlands before her departure for the east, she is now being greeted warmly by a wide circle of friends.

The season of charity events fairly began last Saturday with the Harvest Market that netted the West Oakland Home over three thousand dollars, and next comes the first of the large card parties—one for the building fund of St. Paul's parish house, that is to be given at Hotel Oakland on Thursday afternoon, September 1.

There will be another affair in the interest of St. Paul's, however, on the Colonial Tea next Thursday that Mrs. William High is having at her home in Piedmont. At this tea many of the treasures of colonial days that fill the High house will be shown, and a group of matrons of society will be dressed in the period costumes that those of today are so indebted to. Yesterday many of these same women met with Mrs. Frank Avery to arrange final details for the larger event next month.

It has been decided to enter five hundred players, and during the course of the game home-made bon-bons will be sold by a score or so of young girls. The group that is so interested in making the fair a success is headed by Mrs. Avery and includes Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Harry East Miller, Mrs. Robert Hindman, Mrs. Vernon Waldron, Mrs. Nicholas Alexander Acker, Mrs. Clarence Crowell, Mrs. Joseph Warner and several others.

In compliment to Mrs. Chesley John Roberts (Berneice Taylor) Mrs. Neil Cornwell gave a bridge party yesterday at her home in Berkeley, and Mrs. Roberts is at present staying at Casa del Zorro, a beautiful Taylor place in the Uplands, until the early part of next month, when they will move into a place of their own now being made ready for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor is now in the West on a business trip and may be gone for some weeks.

The stay of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Regan and their daughters in Alaska has been definitely prolonged, but it is expected they will return within the next six weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jackson and Miss Virginia Jolliffe, who were with them much of the time there, arrived in San Francisco last Saturday.

Miss Amy Regan will probably be one of the young daughters of the leading families in San Francisco this season, as has at least been rumored with enthusiasm, as the debutantes are not especially numerous in her set.

After a fortnight at Del Monte, where they were among the enthusiasts at the big and exciting polo contests, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have returned to San Francisco, planning to arrive in town in time to join their place about the first of October.

The trio have spent many months in attracting pleasure too, for the summer over in Marin County, and while owing the days there frequently entertained gay house parties of friends.

A series of dances to be given by the Friday Night Assembly of Berkeley have been arranged for October 10, November 7, January 9 and February 14. These "intermediate" dances, always given by the younger set of Berkeley, will be held at the Twentieth Century Clubhouse, and under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Ware.

Mrs. Annie Little Barry, who has been honored by the University of California's making a place for her among extension instructors, was a special guest today at the curators' luncheon, which opened the season of social activities at Ebell Club. Mrs. Barry is the representative for the California Federation of Women's Clubs and is to have charge a class in the game work at Ebell during the coming year.

Among the curators at the round table meeting, Mrs. George W. Percy, curator of the Fine Arts; Mrs. Sarah C. Boland, Mrs. George S. Schubauer, Mrs. A. L. Benson, Mrs. P. C. Stoddart, Mrs. J. Scapham, Mrs. Frank Gedden and a number of others. Mrs. A. L. Cunningham, general curator, presided.

Miss Ruth Eccleston, who is one of section leaders, is still in Mendocino County, where she has been summering in Lincolnville, in the Blackrock range.

After a prolonged stay in Santa Maria, she has been the guest of Mrs. Herbert Easton. Miss Hazel Thetzen is expected back in town tomorrow. Her arrival will bring up a number of affairs of honor, as there is much interest in her engagement to Charles F. Dodge.

Miss Helene Bon and Miss Clara Bon will be joint hostesses next Saturday in giving an elaborate luncheon for Miss Anna Novell, fiancée of Charles M. Novell, at his home on Franklin Avenue. This is one of a number of affairs planned for Miss Novell for the next few weeks. Another will be a large party to be given in the middle of September by Miss Geneva Griswold at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Edward Novell. The party is to address the public, and any appearance he makes always attracts serious attention.

On the committee of arrangements for the dinner are: Miss Annie Florence Brown, Miss Mary Nicholl, Mrs. E. C. Robinson, Mrs. F. C. Turner, Mrs. J. H. Perine and others.

Miss Novell is to be present at the ceremony in the latter part of September. He is engaged in managing the great coffee plantations of the Novells in South America.

Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt, president of Mills College, will share honors with that distinguished speaker and scholar, Dr. David Barrows, president of the Mills Board of Trustees, at a large dinner at Hotel Oakland on Tuesday evening, September 12.

Many representative men and women will be present at this interesting affair, among them President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, the other members of the Corporation and President Wilbur of Stanford University, who are to extend their good wishes to the new head of the Western college for women. Dr. Barrows himself will describe his experiences in Europe's war-torn countries, a subject he has written about and expresses himself still more graphically than he did concerning the causes of the war before he took this last trip of his. He is one of the most gifted of the men who ever have given lectures rooms at the University of California. To address the public, and any appearance he makes always attracts serious attention.

WOLVERTON'S SEALS ARRIVE TO FACE BEES IN NINE-GAME SERIES

Oaks and Vernonites to Mix Matters in Southland; Beavers Play Angels

Harry Wolverton, manager of the San Francisco Club, led his pack of Seals into town yesterday. For the past week, Wolverton's men have been sojourning at Los Angeles, where they have been dropping in on various games to "liven" Wolverton's on rushing Tigers. Wolverton blames these five ignominious defeats to the deplorability of his pitching staff. Only "Spider" Baum and West Pitcher good ball, West was picked up just for the exhibition, for Wolverton figures it out that at least, he could not pitch any worse than Oldham or Erickson, et al.

West twirled in Saturday's game against the Tigers, allowing an eleven-inning snap by 4 to 2 score, according to Wolverton. Hiram exhibited curves and twisters galore and is as good a twirler today as he was when Wally McDermid first plucked him from the American Association. West recently has turned to baseball, however, which probably accounts for his return to form.

The rest of the pitching crew was off color, Oldham and Erickson and Johnny Cauch, too, being hit hard and batted out of the box by the Southerners.

Wolverton has another pitcher, Kallie Ray Kallis, of the Great Falls Club, Kallie will report Monday. He is the same chap whom "Rowdy" Elliott signed for the Oaks last spring. Kallie pitched some neat ball at the training camp, but Elliott had no room for him, so he hustled out of the "old" club and up to Oaks, the pitching end of it. Kallie has won a big majority of his games for the Northwestern League Club and should prove a winner here.

Wolverton will show in his best lineup against Blane's Bees today, Justin Fitzgerald will be back as the lead-off man, with Jack Coffey on hand at short. Calvo sprained his ankle severely in Saturday's game and will play the bench today. Schaller will be left, with Bob in center, James Dugan in right, and try with the cushion experts, with "Spider" Baum on the knoll and Brooks at the receiving end.

The Seals are likely to run up against a stiff proposition in the Bees. The Salt Licks are in the lead, but with a good pitching this week, they should top over Wolverton's club and climb into third place. Today, they are only eleven points behind the Seals, which is about a two-game lead. A victory today and one tomorrow will send the Seals into the second division.

"Blank," left Tom Dowley and Pitcher Powers, who are in the same boat.

Both are incapacitated at present.

Both are incurred on account of injuries.

There will be three new men in harness to help down the Seals, however, namely fielder Earl Gislason, Earl Sheely, a hard hitting first sacker, and Andrew Hall, a clever new wheeler twirled for McDermid.

With a nine-game series on the card this week, a double header being played next Monday, "Blank" will have plenty of use for Evans. He will work in two games this week. Fitters play Shubert and Powers are expected to do the bulk of the work, each to pitch in two games.

The Howardized Oaks are in Los Angeles today, where they buck up against the Hamparts in a nine-game series.

Howard, of course, expects to make a mark on the Oaks, having won their last two sets of games and Howard feels sure that his boys will outplay the Southerners this week. Martin will pitch today.

"Speed" will be sent at the "Tigers" on Sunday morning again. With two wins under his belt, Howard will have plenty of work for the pitchers and as

Prough, Crandall, Burns, Beer, Boyd, Klinney and Martin are working in good fashion, Howard has nothing to fear.

"Husk" Chance is making a light pitch, while the other two Chicago Cubs will be on the lookout for the Cub's pitcher, who can hold his star outfielder, Harry

Wolter, until the present season is ended.

It seems that the Cubs want Wolter for immediate delivery. There is little chance of Chance letting Wolter go, as Harry has been the constant star of this year and his loss would put a serious crimp in the team's pennant chances.

The Beavers and Angels hook up in a tight series in the north. The Beavers have been strengthened considerably and they are about even with the Southern team. McGehee usually starts a spurt now toward the close of the series, but right now, it looks as though the Beavers have little chance of starting something worth while. "Mac's" pitchers have not been right this season. Though the pen-nyers are about even with the Southern

TRADING ON STREET POORLY DISTRIBUTED

Business Relatively Light in Volume, With Losses in Many Stocks

NEW YORK. Aug. 29.—Trading in the greater part of today's session was relatively light in volume, with the business poorly distributed and chiefly a reflection of the operations of the professional element. Although at times moderate declines were reported, the movement did not accompany important liquidations or evidence of uneasiness among the substantial Wall Street interests regarding the railroad labor situation.

Losses recorded in rail stocks, as, for instance, Union Pacific, Reading and New York Central, failed to attract active offerings, while weakness in some of the munition shares and specialties was not effective in bringing on a general selling movement.

In the first part of the afternoon prices held firm at or slightly above the early low points, with fair buying noted. In Mercantile Marine, many of the copper and United States Steel, Tennessee Copper was exceptionally weak.

AMERICAN STOCKS IN LONDON.

Movements of representative American stocks on the London Stock Exchange today included the following: Atchison, unchanged; Canadian Pacific, 1 up, Erie, 1 up; Southern Pacific, 1/2 off; Union Pacific, 1/4 off.

LONDON. Aug. 29.—American shares affected by strike fears and the break in which ensued.

PROFESSIONAL COMMENT.

Clark, Childs & Co.—Consideration for the far distant future of our industrial market demands study, not only of income but of conditions of trade peculiar to each country.

Henry Clews & Co.—The general stock market is in a sound position.

Wall Street Journal says—Short selling is not looked on as a particularly safe interest in this time.

The Sun says—The short interest in stock is increasing.

TOWNWANTS COIN OF HOWLAND HEIR

Poor Farm Inmate Said to Be Entitled to Hetty Green Trustee Fund Share.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 29.—Contending that William P. Grinnell, an inmate of its poor farm, was entitled to share in the $1,500,000 estate of the late Sylvia Ann Howland, which was released by the death recently of Mrs. Hetty Green, the town of Tewesbury today filed in the Superior Court a bill in equity to establish its claim against Grinnell for shelter and food furnished him for nine years.

Judge Fox granted the town's petition for a temporary injunction restraining Grinnell from receipt or disposal of the property. Town offials of Tewesbury say there is reason to believe Grinnell, who is 75 years old, is entitled to more than $20,000 from the Howland estate.

DON'T CLIP, SKETCH, BIND, BUY OR BOTHER WITH PICTURES

You Can Do Away With All That, Yet Increase Your Pleasure, With the Reply Book

In the Picturegame Reply Book participants not only find a way to submit the limit of five answers for each picture; they also find that the Reply Book saves them time, labor and money, for it becomes their complete set—it takes the place of the multitude of pictures and coupons they would have to bother with, clip, bind together and fill out separately, if they did not have a Reply Book.

You sign the Reply Book in two places and then you're through with that. Quite a different thing with the separate pictures and coupons—you must sign each one of them!

The Reply Book consists of thirty-five numbered answer blanks. On each answer blank you write the title or titles you wish to submit to the picture bearing the same number. For instance, you write the titles for picture No. 1 on answer blank No. 1 and so on.

If you do not use a Reply Book you must secure by purchase or by sketching facsimile representations of each picture and coupon, making an exact and acceptable duplicate of the original) a separate picture and coupon on which to submit each title. Pictures are sold at the regular price of the paper per copy, but the Catalog-Reply Book may be obtained outright at a special low price for both.

Turn to today's announcement and read about that.

Kearney Service to Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning for Thomas Kearney, old-time resident, who died after living fifty-two years in Oakland. He was 77 years old. From Athlone, Ireland, Kearney came to this country as a young man. After a brief residence in the east he made his way to the Pacific coast, and started in making shoes. He was a shoemaker during the entire period of his residence here.

He was the husband of Mrs. Bridget Kearney, who survives him; the father of Daniel, Thomas, Edward and John Kearney, and of the late William B. Kearney and Mary Johnson. Three sisters survive him, also, Mrs. J. Bradshaw, Mrs. T. Rowan and Mrs. J. Hamley.

Requiem high mass will be said at Sacred Heart church tomorrow morning for the repose of the soul, after which interment is to take place at St. Mary's cemetery.

V. O. Lawrence, president of the local Scout Council, and G. H. Pfund, scout commissioner, will explain the plans for the Oakland scout organization, which includes the aim of enrolling 1,000 Boy Scouts by next August.

Scout Executive Wilson will tell what this great national movement means and what the qualifications of a scout master are. Today there are about 200 Boy Scouts in Oakland pledged to keep "physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight," and to do a good turn daily.

There are also 800 or more boys enthusiastic and anxious to become members of the Boy Scouts of America, of which there are now over 185,000 enrolled in the United States. Wilson will explain how these 800 new boys may be given the educational advantages of scouting and living in the open.

This noon at a reunion of the "rookies" who were at the Monterey encampment Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough told the men why they should take an active part in helping the Boy Scout movement.
